A DIGNIFIED PROTEST.

["It is no earthly uso talking patriotism." -Lord Methuen.

I do not wish, my Lord, to write In aught like a despondent way, And I will mention that I quite Believe you mean just what you say ; But still, you'll own, this sort of thing. Is terribly discouraging.

'Tis rather hard upon a man Who holds his country fairly dear, And tries, in lines, that rhyme and scan, To reach the British Public's ear, To learn that you see only signs Of bombast in his well-meant lines.

Should I desire to fight the foe Who compasses my country's fall, Should I aspire to war to go And face the hurtling cannon ball. I should immediately be told That I was very much too old.

Then why, my good Lord Methuen,

Should you deprive me of the chance Of singing with my simple pen described and The joys of heing friends with France 1 Why should I not do what I can To draw us closer to Japan?

And in the battle to engage; But why, I wonder, do you think We should not work with pen and ink? If patriotism be a thing Which is at all worth working for.

Why sit upon the folks who sing Our animated songs of war? Their efforts, though results be small, May bring forth something after all. It is not hard, of course, to run About and shout " Efficiency !" This has been slightly overdone.
By amiable Rosebery,

Who hears a something in his voice

That always makes his soul rejoice. But you need not sneer at those Who try to sing their country's praise; hey might wake up the folks who doza, a And there are plenty nowadays, 'Tis botter far to talk than let The easy-going ones forget.

If no one ever wrote a word About our well-loved native land, If no one's voice were ever heard Proclaiming how she ought to stand, It seems to me that she might be Asleap amid the sounding ses.

So let the patriot permanido. The bit that lies within his pow'r, And let him no more hear from you Harsh words and criticisms sour. The sword is mighty, but the pen May have its uses now, and, then.

CHEMISTRY OF TEARS.

"Pearls of Sentiment."

A sermon on the chemistry of tears has just been delivered by the Rev. Paul Bull, of Manchester, who gave both moral and chemical analyses in the course of his discourse.

He had paid a visit to a local dispenser, he said, and astonished the man by asking him to analyse a tear., " H2 O, sodium) shloride, a minute quantity of other salts, and water," was the result, and the chemist promptly offered to make up any quantity of the liquid desired.

Tears, according to Mr Bull, are "the sacrament of a broken heart, the outward sign of a deep sorrow."

But a Harley-street physician declares that to the medical man tears are a much simpler matter.

"Tears are just salt and water with a fraction of phosphates. But, with all respect to the reverend gentleman, the primary use of tears is to keep the surface of the eye muiat. If that were allowed to ! get dry blindness would soon follow.

"Olever woman has discovered a quite secondary use for tears, namely, to influence husbands to pay millinery bills."

WORST CITY IN THE WORLD.

London's Appalling Crime Figures.

"Why is it that London's crime figures should have become so appalling that even the United States authorities, as stated in a London paper, view them with amazement? "There can be no doubt that "intellectual' crimes are on the increase," said an official of Bowstreet, who is one of the recognised authorities on crime statistics. "I mean forgeries, highly difficult burglaries, and huge swindles that require brains, resources, and nerve.

"But in spite of this growth of crime another interpretation can be put upon the statistics just published. They may mean that instead of greater criminal tendencies among the masses there is a growth of public) sentiment against crime, and efficiency smong the police which drags every crime into the timelight of publicity. An exact parallel is maintained by some in dealing with insanity statistics, these persons believing that there are no more deranged persons than years age, but that insane people now are recorded as such instead of being treated, as foolish members of the family and kept at home.

"The dangerous tendency of crime today is towards oppression and murder by system under which no one can be held 'frenzied finance' that is responsible for LTD., Budapest, Hungary. many suicides, defalcations, and the like, but also the system of 'business is business' and landlordism which sweats the rent out of men and women until they are forced into the street to steal or starve."

In the opinion of a well-known doctor Lendon has become the worst city in the world. "There is more vice, crime, and drunkenness there," he said ! than in any other city in the world."

THE CANTON OUTRAGE.

THE number of black marks against the name of Viceroy Shun is steadily increasing. In turn that official has come into conflict with foreigners and his own people; the terrible Lienchau massacre took place in the territory under his jurisdiction, and on Saturday we had to report a gross outrage committed at Fati upon Dr. Beattie and his wife. It is possibly a coincidence that these attacks have been directed against Americans in each instance, but it has to be borne in mind that—chiefly through the undecided and nerveless conduct of the Viceroy-feeling in regard to Americans has been steadily growing more bitter since the inception of the boycott. However, it is but fair to remark that our correspondent points out that Dr Beattie's residence was in position which invited the first attack. All this, however, is beside the question. What all foreigners are directly concerned in is the capability and the desire of the Vicercy to protect their persons and property. The right to reside in the Empire has been conceded, and foreign residents may reasonably expect to be protected from raids by large bodies of bandits. That such are possible—metapherically speaking—under the shadow of the Viceroy's Yamen, means that his boast ed success in restoring order is a myth. It is only by good luck, not judgment nor prevision, that the robbers did not slay their victims. As it is they have been grievously assaulted, threatened with death and their property has been plundered. What is Peking going to throughout the province, that Beattie has done magnificent work among the lepers, while it renders the offence against him the more gross, need not be taken into consideration. Foreigners reside in the province with the sanction of the authorities and conferring this sanction the authorities practically guarantee that the foreigners. shall liave the protection of the laws of of the land. If the governing power is so weak that it cannot secure obedience to the laws it must give up the hollow pretext of being able to guide its own destinies. If the Vicercy is so sepine and regardless of the trust which has Had it been otherwise the incompetence | word and the rectitude of his nines. of Shun might have jeopardised the say that a man, who had kept clear of integrity of the Empire. will be fore-shortened, a monetary reparation will probably be offered and it will be expected that the affair shall be allowed to sink into oblivion. This will not satisfy the foreigners. Only one thing will suffice to satisfy them that the Chinese Government really desires to protect them from these outrageous attacks. 'Shun must go.'

A remarkable article in Pearson's

Magazine puts this very striking question to the British public: Are human children of less importance than the birds and beasts of the field? The facts suggest that England has answered the question in the affirmative. Investigations have shown the compiler of the article that of the young of poultry 2 per cent. die, of sheep 3 per cent., of Register of Shares of the Hongkong and pigs and cows 4 per cent., of horses 8 this date to 24th February inclusive. per cent. Of the young of our own kind, 118, of human infants, 15 per cent. die, a Transer Books of Hongkong and Wham- rate of infant mortality which, if ruling among domestic animals, would bank Goods per Tourans unclaimed after rupt every stockbreeder in the land. There is no reason to question the accuracy of these figures which certainly reflect little credit upon, the nation. That the gospel of comfort should have the shocking effect of lowering the birth-rate is bad enough in all conscioned that it should conduce to murder by omission is infinitely worse. The magazine writer does not exactly explain the appalling mortality among infants by alleging criminal neglect but he does affirm that neglect is largely responsible for the high percentage of death. Most people will not feel inclined to quibble over the difference in terms, If such huge amount of tender mortality is an nually allowed to pass into the Beyond without having tasted the joys of life, when a little care might have saved it, those responsible are guilty of a crime Apart from the moral aspect, from national standpoint this tendency is material menace. A newspaper published in New York-not one of the "Yellow" organs but a staid literary weekly-has been criticising Mr. Thomas Lawson, the inventor of the term "Frenzied Finance." Mr. Lawson was himself a frenzied financier, that Changeha have been arrested: they is to say he worked combinations and represent themselves to be Turks. scooped in millions of dollars by cooperating with others to force stocks to fluctuate. It happened that he became ruined, whereupon he " blew the gaff," as, Bill Sykes might have expressed it. In a series of articles in an American magazine Mr. Lawson exposed all the machinery by which the Kings of American finance extracted levies from the unprotected shareholders. E went further and invited the robbed to combine with him in an infallible project to ruin the robbers. Many of them did so but apparently his calculations were at fault as he was compelled to announce in December that the subscribers to his pool had lost 36 per cent or $3,600,000 (gold). We are not so concerned with this financial adventure as the comment which the paper referred to makes. It says :- "Whether Lawson himself lost proportionately, no one knows. And later on its readers are told: "Our sole point is that we must differentiate the evil and untrustworthy man as informer, as betrayer, as clamorer from the evil and untrustworthy man as reformer. In the former capacity he may enlighten the public; in the latter, it is preposterous to suppose that he can lead it. SUNDAY WORK,

Rev. Mr Hickling's Opinion.

"Bix days shalt thou labour," was the subject of the Rev. C. H. Hickling's address at the Union Church on Sunday. He said that he was pleased to see that someone unknown to him had taken the question o Sunday labour up in the columns of the CHINA MAIL and hoped that a strong effort would be made to make Sunday more a day of rest, distinct from the rest of the week, than it was at present. He held the opinion that Chinese would do quite as much work in the six days as they now did in seven if the latter were made a holiday. Example was much better than precept, and there; fore he hoped that all would join in doing away with Sunday work, one way of doing which would be to give up Sunday tiffin parties with menus as long as that intended for the Prince at the Ko Shing Theatre.

2ND R VAL WEST KENTS C. H.M S. " TANAR."

In the first round of the competition for the Hongkong Football Challenge Shield the 2nd Royal West Kents met H.M.S. "Tamar" on Saturday afternoon, at the Military Ground, Happy Valley, before a l-rge turn out of enthusinsts, and under the most favourable weather conditions. The West Kents played, with three exceptions, the same team as won the shield for them last year, and from their play on Saturday it seems likely that they will be able to retain it. The game was a good one, free from fouls, and full of excitement. The "Tamar" mon played sound defence, but their forwards lacked the necessary finish at the goalmouth.

The teams were as follow :-West Kents: Watling; Adams and Thomson ; Edward, Morris and Falshaw ; Falkner, Ogle, Moss and Treveno, Clements. "Tamar: Flowers; Wilkinson and Bunford; Mill Ridley and Randall; Denman, Robinson, Ball, Platt and Woolley. Referee-Mr J. W C. Bonnar.

The "Tamar" opened the game in a spirited fashion. Playing with precision, their movements, except at the goalmouth, were in the direction of good combination. Wooley and then Robinson tried to break down the defence, but Adams relieved. A 169 penalty kick was awarded the "Tamar men, from which a sure goal was expected. Platt, who took the kick, however, failed to score. Soon after resuming Clements, of the Kents, had to retire with a damaged knee. After a short time he reappeared, but during the second half he had to leave the field for good. Ridley, one of the Tamar's men, was also hurt and had to leave. The West Kents commenced to play a more open and fearless game, which was full of dash, and it was the latter trait which enabled Trevana to open the scoring. The game, however, was by no means one-sided, that their Goods, with the exception and though a goal down the 'Tamer" boys were having a large share of the exchanges, but they failed to get the ball passed Wating. Before half-time was sounded Ogle netted the ball once again, but as the the goal was disallowed, and the first half at Kowloon, whence delivery may be obended in favour of the soldiers by one goal

The second half opened briskly, with the " Towar " men pressing, and they had repeatedly hard lines in not getting through, but their ferwards steadied themselves too much for the alertness of Kent's defence, which was particularly active and keen. Afterwards the soldiers assumed the agreesive. but their forward play was very often spoiled by Moss lying off side. Trevana before the 12th February, or they will not presented to the Undersigned on or before and his partner on the right played good before the 12th before the 12th be recognized. wings to perfection, and some of his long on MONDAY, the 12th February, at 3p.m. shots seemed sure goals, only the "Tamar" defence, and the cross-bar on one eccasion, saved the situation. The "Tamar" once more had a look-in but it did not last 248 well out to Trevana, who, after some clever footwork, slipped the defence and scored the escond goal. With two goals to the good Ogle and his men played with winning confidence. The "Tamar" men latterly played the one-back game, which the soldiers supporters much resented, and rightly so, for if football is played Soon after the game ended, and the soldiers retired victors by two goals to nil.

H.M.S. "DIADEM" v. "ANDROMFDA." These naval tooms met at the Happy Valley on Saturday afternoon. The fixture tion assured.
was a friendly one, but had it been a cup BOTH. EN tie a keener game could not have been " Andromeda " leading by the narrow margin of one goal to nil. In the second stage of the same, the "Diadem's" n en played with surprising confidence in their powers, and they soon had four goals to their credit. while the "Andromeda" scored another, the game ending in favour of the 'Diadem'
